

OLD SOLDIERS HOLD CENTENARY SERVICES

Veterans Honor Dominicans Centenary at Unique Meeting.

Celebration of the seventh centenary of the founding of the Dominican Order was resumed in the House of Study in Brookline yesterday, students of Catholic University participating in the exercises.

The speaker was Rev. Basil Taylor, of Columbus, Ohio, and a dissertation entitled "The Active and Contemplative Life" was read by Rev. A. Marchant.

Soldiers residing at the Soldiers' Home held a unique religious service in the evening, commemorating the centenary of the Dominicans. The chapel at the Home was decorated with hundreds of chrysanthemums, furnished by the soldiers. The sermon was preached by Rev. John A. Kelly, of St. Mary's convent, New Haven, Conn. Rev. James B. Connolly, of Somerset, O., was deacon, while Rev. Walter G. Scanlon, of Memphis, Tenn., served as subdeacon. Solos were sung by Paul Hines, Hannah Sirtter, Agnes Kiley, Mary Whalen and Mrs. King, all of this city. Mary Agnes Dorsch was organist.

Representatives of the various religious orders, congregations and sisterhoods from all over the United States are arriving here to attend the celebration to be held in Dominican Hall Sunday morning.

Bishops who will attend this service are P. J. Donahue, of Wheeling, West Va.; P. R. Hedron, of Winston, Minn.; M. F. Fall, of London, Ontario, and Thomas J. Shahan, of Catholic University.

Preparations are being made by the Dominicans to make the civic celebration to be held at Poll's Theater Sunday afternoon the biggest demonstration of its kind in the history of the church. Bourke Cockran and Charles Bonaparte will be the speakers and Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, will preside.

ALLIES FORSAKE PLAN TO BREAK GERMAN LINE

Original Idea Toward Shattering Peronne-Bapaume Sector Abandoned.

(By the International News Service.) Berlin (wireless via Sayville), Nov. 17.—The military critic of the Overseas News Agency writes:

"The attacks on the Ancre and near Pressoire prove that the Entente has definitely desisted from its original plan to break through the German front on the sector Peronne-Bapaume."

"After 166 heavy and bloody battle days, which cost the Anglo-French forces over 600,000 casualties, they are not yet masters of this small sector on the Somme. Moreover, they are compelled to secure the flanks of their advanced positions. Those most salient points are the Guedes court and Sully-Sallies, and which were obtained after great waste of material and men after four months and a half of fighting. Before they can consider any further advance the Allies are compelled to push back the German positions salienting into their flanks in order to avoid the risk of getting into a more dangerous position in case of a German counter-offensive."

"This is the meaning of the French attacks near Pressoire and the British assaults on the Ancre. On the Ancre the German positions formed an angle whose apex, near Saint Pierre Divion, was already half encircled. In spite of the permanent pressure against the 'leg' of the angle, around Gaumeon and Beaucourt, north of the Ancre, and the 'leg' Thiepval-Courellette, south of the brook, the British were unable to push back the defenders from this position, although the German trenches, approach communications and batteries have been for weeks under the British flanking fire."

"The young bride, Miss Elizabeth M. Fagan, daughter of Peter E. Fagan, of the Fagan family, was married at 10 o'clock last night at the residence of her father, 205 Rittenhouse street, where many hours will be Mrs. Walter J. McAllister, and to Mrs. John Borneo, 702 Catharine street, the mother of one of Philadelphia's brand new babies. To find out what effect Dr. Schaeffer's warning will have upon their actions."

Mrs. Borneo did not hesitate an instant. Immediately she and her husband in chorus said: "Of course, we let people kiss our baby. We are not afraid of germs."

The parents do not believe it unsafe for persons to cuddle and love their little son to his heart's content.

FIVE GET ACID BATH IN ALLENTOWN BLAST

Allemtown, Pa., Nov. 17.—As a carboy containing ten gallons of sulphuric acid was being loaded last night in front of a local drug store, it exploded, and five persons were burned—Alma and Mildred Pfeiffer, Mildred Crossland, Jesse Roth, and Estelle Holben. They were rushed to the Allemtown Hospital, where antidotes were given to relieve the festering likely from the contact with the acid.

The refuse ran down a gutter where the city is laying electric conduits, and the wires were burned up, and it is thought all the work will have to be done over.

A tremendous crowd gathered which had to be kept in check by the police, and the acid ate through the shoes of many people.

FALLS FACE DOWN IN MUD; MAN SUFFOCATES

Chester, Pa., Nov. 17.—The body of an unidentified well-dressed man was found on the Delaware River flats. Footprints in the mud indicated that the man had wandered out on the flats, slipped and fallen face downward and suffocated with the mud in his mouth and nostrils.

A Philadelphia receipt, dated October 7, 1915, and made out to Lamplsey Topfiff, was found in one of his pockets.

33-YEAR DISPUTE SETTLED.

Court Decides Cases With Parties Dead or Out of Office.

Sunbury, Pa., Nov. 17.—After being held in the State Supreme Court for thirty-three years two cases have been returned to Northumberland County Court.

An appeal from the findings of a jury of view in favor of a proposed new road in Raleigh Township, Pennsylvania, is dismissed. James Jenkins, appellant, died a few years ago. In the second case, relating to the keep of paupers in Howard Township, Center County, the lower court sustained, but the indigents are dead and the overseers long since out of office.

WOULD MAKE ENGLAND "DRY."

London, Nov. 17.—A campaign to make England dry will shortly be launched in Parliament. It has the active support of King George, himself a teetotaler.

Champions of prohibition are meeting their chance in the present food situation. They introduce a motion in commons prohibiting the manufacture of all alcoholic beverages. In connection with this campaign, a movement is under way to decrease the widespread excess drinking among women, which has developed since the war began.

Band Omits Concert.

On account of repairs being made to the concert hall at the Marine Barracks, the regular scheduled concert of the Marine Band Orchestra for Monday, November 20, will be omitted.

ANACONDA HITS 103; MAGMA UP 8 POINTS

Lackawanna Steel Reaches 107; Republic Crosses 90, a Top Price.

Special to The Washington Herald.

New York, Nov. 17.—There was a vigorous movement upward in the metal stocks at midday, particularly in the copper list, which saw most of those issues to new high record prices, which is not surprising in view of the prevailing prices of the metal, the highest levels probably since the war between the States. Anaconda sold through 103, the highest price in the history of the company. Inspiration pushed through 72. Chino touched 72, and Kennecott crossed 61.

Utah sold above 122, all of them new high levels for all time. Corresponding gains were made elsewhere in the list. Magna Copper advanced over 8 points on the curb. Cerro de Pasco was strong. There was talk in the street today of a possible merger of Kennecott, Chile and Cerro de Pasco, but nothing definite could be learned about the project at this time.

There were numerous strong spots throughout the industrial lists which spelled high records. Most of the vigorous buying was attributed to Western oil houses. Lackawanna Steel, for example, touched 107. The best price it has sold for in any previous year was 94. Republic Steel crossed 90, also a top price.

Gulf States Steel common and second shares for the week, and their record-breaking course, although the gains were not consistently maintained. Pressed Steel Car sold at the highest point in its history, at 86, and Railway Steel Springs sold at its highest since 1904. Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke reached the best price this year, at 69. Record prices were, in fact, the rule rather than the exception.

GERM SCARE SCOUTED BY 'PHILLY' MOTHERS

Insist on Kissing Babies Despite Surgeon's Warning.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Germs or no germs, the mothers of Philadelphia, will, like Tennessee's brook, "run ever, and the bride-as well as the mother of the brand-new baby—refuses to be governed by the mandatory hospital by less an authority than Dr. Charles D. Schaeffer, the chief surgeon of that hospital.

Brides and mothers alike agree that "somebody is always trying to take the joy out of life," and say they will just go on with it.

When the news was sent to Philadelphia today from Allentown that promiscuous kissing, or even kissing of sweethearts and the kissing of babies by mothers, is dangerous, a reporter went hot foot to a bride-to-be, Miss Elizabeth M. Fagan, 205 Rittenhouse street, where many hours will be Mrs. Walter J. McAllister, and to Mrs. John Borneo, 702 Catharine street, the mother of one of Philadelphia's brand new babies. To find out what effect Dr. Schaeffer's warning will have upon their actions."

GIRL PLAYS SLEUTH AND CAPTURES TWO MEN

New York, Nov. 17.—Florence Lipschutz outran two men whom she saw entering the East Twenty-second street station, and captured them after a chase in the building where she lives, at 355 First avenue, early today, and caught both and turned them over to Patrolman Conlon, of the East Twenty-second street station.

The girl was climbing the stairs to her flat when she saw the men acting suspiciously about the door of Conso's flat. They dashed past her to the street, but Miss Lipschutz followed and, near Second avenue and Twenty-third street, the two saw Conlon and attempted to turn back.

The girl was directly behind them, however, and before they could dart away, she had a firm grip on their coats. Both were charged with burglary after a "jimmy" was found outside the Conso door, which had been forced open.

ESCAPADE, THEN DIVORCE.

Hubby Lost $15 to Another Woman.

Baltimore, Nov. 17.—A newspaper story of her husband's escapade with another woman caused Harry C. Henderson to lose his wife, Mrs. Myrtle M. Henderson.

Mrs. Henderson was given an absolute divorce in the Circuit Court this morning on grounds of infidelity.

Henderson, according to his own testimony, met a woman who robbed him of $15 on January 6, 1915. The woman was arrested and the story was printed in the newspapers. Mrs. Henderson read the article and after hearing the testimony in the police court left her husband. They were married in Alexandria, Va., June 10, 1914. Mrs. Henderson was awarded the custody of two minor children, for whom she says she has made a home at 2613 Wilkens avenue.

CHARITY BAZAAR PLANNED.

For Benefit of German and Austro-Hungarian Widows.

Elaborate plans for a monster charity bazaar for the German and Austro-Hungarian war widows and orphans are being held at Convention Hall from February 5 to 10, were perfected last night at a meeting of representative German and Austro-Hungarian citizens in Saengerbund Hall.

The affair will be under the patronage of the German Ambassador's wife, Countess Bernstorff and promises to overshadow even the remarkable success of last year's fair.

Martin Wiegand, then its chairman, was again elected chairman for the coming event.

PLEADS ACT OF GOD.

Employer Resists Compensation Claim Where Windstorm Hurt Man.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 17.—Mrs. James Shepherd, of this city, asked compensation at a hearing before Referee Houck for the killing of her husband, a carpenter, at Ridgewood, some months ago.

Charles H. Schlegel, the contractor who employed Shepherd, is resisting the claim, on the ground that death was due to a windstorm.

Shepherd was struck by a plank picked up by the wind and crushed, developed pneumonia, ended fatally. No decision was filed.

TEACHERS MAY DANCE TILL COWS COME HOME

Education Board Head Thinks Exercise Wholesome Pastime.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 17.—Philadelphia schoolteachers, unlike the teachers of Charlotte, N. C., can dance till the cows come home or play poker while the moon lingers on in the dawn, in so far as President Henry R. Edmunds, of the board of education, would give a peppercorn or care a particular little bit.

"I approve of dancing," he said today, after he had read that the school commissioners of Charlotte, N. C., had put the ban on it for their teachers. "Although I'm not a remarkable dancer myself," he said, "I look upon it as a healthy exercise and a wholesome pastime. There's no use making rules or adopting resolutions as to what teachers shall do after business hours because they'll do as they please anyway."

In fact, a great many teachers come to work Monday morning happy after attending a ball the night before and spread their sunshine and happiness about the classrooms.

The Charlotte commissioners contend that the same amusement militates against successful work in the schoolroom. It is believed in Philadelphia that whatever makes them happy makes them good.

STORE BOOZE TO BEAT EXCISE LAW IS PLAN

Gotham Has Been Up Against Sunday New Year's Eve Before.

New York, Nov. 17.—The merry villagers who are wont to revel on New Year's Eve were cheered today by thoughts of a four-days' celebration this year, instead of the abbreviated affair that was threatened because New Year comes on Monday.

Regardless of what happens, many will begin festivities on Saturday and continue them on Sunday. The hotel and restaurant men have plans under way to celebrate on New Year's night instead of New Year's Eve. Now comes a proposition that the Board of Aldermen decide Tuesday a holiday so folks can recover from what goes before.

Mayor Mitchell has intimated he may tilt the lid a little by extending the excise privileges to 2 or 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning. But he served notice on restaurant proprietors, as he had done with the hotel men, that he would expect "real, substantial and actual compensation" with the excise law on December 31. The restaurant men gave every indication of a desire to agree with the mayor.

WASHINGTON LADY NOW ENDORSES IT

Miss Rose C. Sullivan, of 1357 C St., Claims Plant Juice Benefited Her Mother.

Nature, like an army when attacked, has warnings and signals which should never go unheeded. When the stomach, liver or kidneys suffer slight derangements, they send out their hurry call to be careful. Each has its warning note which frequently takes the form of indigestion, dyspepsia, gas on the stomach, nervousness, constipation, pains in the back or sides, dizziness, sleeplessness, etc. Nine out of ten people ignore these first and wait until serious illness has laid them low, before they seek relief.

Plant Juice, the new herbal stomach remedy, assists Nature, and will bring relief in practically all cases of a deranged stomach, liver or kidneys. Thousands of well known people are testifying to the great benefit they have received after they had practically given up all hope of permanent relief.

One of the latest signed testimonials is that of Miss Rose C. Sullivan, who lives at No. 1357 C street southwest, and is a popular young lady, having hosts of friends in the city. She tells how her mother was relieved of a bad case of stomach trouble by Plant Juice, as follows:

"My mother had suffered for twenty-four years with kidney trouble and rheumatism; she had a continual pain in her side which became worse at night and she could never get any sleep and had to have hot applications constantly all night long. Her limbs would get so stiff that she could not use them, and were very painful. Her kidneys were badly affected and she had terrible pains in her back and all over her body. She had tried ever so many different medicines, but none of them gave her any permanent benefit. We had read of the wonderful cures that your Plant Juice had made in other cities, and not a bottle for my mother. One bottle has cured her entirely of the pain in her side. She can sleep the night through. It has relieved her kidneys and rheumatism, and she has not an ache or pain. Plant Juice was the only medicine to relieve her and I will recommend it to all of our friends."

The Plant Juice Man is at The People's Drug Store, corner of Seventh and E streets, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Adv.
